WHITE ZINC PAINT.

After thorough test in Europe and the United States, has been found to retain its beauty and protective qualities longer than any other paint—for whiteness and brilliancy it is unrivaled; it is free from all poisonous properties so common and dangerous in other pigments; will not settle, equal weight, from 50 to 100 per cent more spice than lead, and is, therefore, much cheaper to the consumer. As an inside paint it will last forty years, even when exposed to the sulphurous gases from the foul air of ships. Their White Zinc ground in varnish produces the purest finish. Their

Brown and Black Zinc Paints

in a few hours form a hard and solid metalic coating upon wood, brick, iron and other metalic surfaces, and are remarkable for their fire-proof properties. They are especially adapted for marine purposes, having been found to resist the corroding action of salt water, so destructive to other paints.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 45 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her ankles were distressing, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every home remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of the legs was terrible. And often could I wear shoes for months, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved unavailing, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, a stranger to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without scarcely a scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the suffering of my wife during the last 45 years, and the trust them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the misfortune of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN

A TERRIBLY 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS STANDING.

Copy of a letter from Mr. Abel Abbott, of Cox Bushcombe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31st, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg (the result of two or three different accidents as follows: Whilst accompanied by scrofula it had recourse to a variety of medical aid, without deriving any benefit, until was advised to try that long and much lauded remedy, your Pills and Ointment, which I am happy to say have effected a complete cure in so short a time (four months) that had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be certified by Mr. W. Fox, England, Chemist, 13, Market street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of East Kent, dated December 13th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—My wife had suffered from bad breasts for more than six months, and during the whole of which period she had the best medical attendance that could be had. Having before heard of such wonderful cures of your Pills and Ointment, and the benefits to be derived from them, I was induced to procure some of your Pills and Ointment, and the result was, before she had taken one box of the Pills and used the Ointment according to your printed directions, a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that many of their branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I am daily receiving fresh orders from my friends.

(Signed) FREDERICK TURNER.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in the following cases:

Bad Legs	Gout (Soft)
Bad Breasts	Cancers
Bad Nipples	Contracted and Stiff Joints

WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR,

William G. Crosby

OF BELFAST.

FOR CONGRESS,

ISRAEL WASHBURN, Jr.

Our despatches from Baltimore indicate that the nomination of a candidate will be deferred until to-day. The representatives of the Whigs of the whole country are there in council, and the postponement of a nomination is for the purpose of allowing time for consultation upon matters, the adoption or rejection of which is to have a decisive influence upon the party in the impending canvass.

Let us hope that the spirit of concession, of earnest desire to promote the success of the country through the instrumentality of the Whig party, will so influence their counsels, as that the nomination which shall be finally received by every Whig in the country as the one settled upon and determined by the Convention as the best possible that could have been made. In the mean time, let all Whigs who are at home, prepare themselves for the nomination, come for it when it may. Scott men, Webster men and Fillmore men, each and all of you at present good and effective names, for the high honor you desire to bestow. But some of you must be disappointed. It may be so; it may be another thing; while the uncertainty of doing away on the event, becomes us all to have respect unto the preferences of others, and be ready to adopt the name that the Convention may indicate, as the one most likely to lead us to success. We each of us stand in the attitude of asking Whigs of all shades of opinion, to go for one man. If he is fortunate enough to have the nomination. Let us be as ready to grant the same concession, remembering always, that it is not for men we are contending, but for a high and earnest principle; and if it shall be our good fortune to succeed under the banner of either of the illustrious individuals whose names are talked of in connection with the Presidency. We may well congratulate ourselves that the destinies of the republic are committed to hands from whose hold no detriment to her interests will come.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, June 14, 1852.

The political atmosphere here is in correspondence with the natural, both being to-day very warm. Mr. Gentry in the House has made a demonstration against Gen. Scott, which is eminently sectional, and to this complexion we must come at last, and come not by the precipitancy of the North by the determination of the South, or, more justly that portion of the South, whom Mr. Gentry represents. Well, the North are well warned, and if they do not face the music and hold to their own, we greatly misjudge their determination, and their steadfast adherance to the right and the just.—The whigs are now the conservators of the true American ideas of freedom—of equal rights to all, and of exact justice to every portion of the country. This position they will maintain in calmness and in strength, let it bring either victory or defeat.

In passing through Baltimore to this city, we found already assembled there, several of the delegates from Maine, and from many other of the States of the Union. All are active, and each section, seemingly confident of success.—Our opinion is that amidst all the war of battle, will be ovdived the fact that General Winfield Scott will receive the nomination. That flint was considered fixed, although it may take the skirmishes of two or three ballots, to effect the result.

The throng of visitors at the capital is very large, and many of the people listened to the able and interesting debate in the House to day, and while Southern men are turning their attention to the consequences of a secession from their whig brethren of the North, Northern whigs feel more and more the injustice intended them, and the determination to disregard it. Stanley, and Mangum, and Jones, and others, heroic Southern whigs are still determined to cling to the earnest laboring whigs of the North.

Washington is just now the centre of a political ferment, which is soon to be transferred to Baltimore, and at no distant period to be consummated in a nomination which will, if its issues and results be fairly understood and realized, arouse the whigs throughout the country, in a generous enthusiasm, and a patriotic determination to rescue the country from the hands of the speiler.

Political intelligence will, however, reach you by telegraph either direct or through other papers before my sheet can reach you, and it will be unnecessary for me to occupy space with these matters from this quarter.

We find here several of our citizens who have come to be lookers on, and partakers in the current political excitement.

Our Mayor, Hon. E. L. Hamlin, soon returns to Bangor, with the plans and specifications for the new Custom House there, and the work of its erection will soon be commenced.

The season since I left Bangor, a week since, has made very rapid progress, to appearance at least, for to-day, between this city and Baltimore, the hay-makers were busily engaged in securing their crop on the most forward fields, and the corn in some fields was knee high. The weather to-day has been oppressively hot.

I have commenced my examination of some of the notables of this city, which I may jot down for the entertainment of your readers, if I can find time to do so, before their impressions passes away from my mental vision.

Yours, S

MUSIC FOR THE PEOPLE.—A movement is now on foot to raise $200 by subscription to employ the Bangor Brass Band to play on two evenings in the week, during the summer months, in suitable localities. This is an excellent move, and we trust it will succeed. While it will afford much gratification to our citizens, it will encourage the Band. Mr. Howe has been engaged as its leader, under whose instruction much proficiency may be acquired. Let the subscription be immediately filled.

Mercury.

We agree with the Mercury that, "this is an excellent move." The Band should be sustained for the credit of the city, as well as for the gratification of our citizens. We should be in an unfortunate fix if, at some public celebration, we should find ourselves destitute of music. To have it when we want it, we must keep it alive.

American Affairs in Europe.

The Berlin correspondent of the New York Times, states some interesting facts in relation to Americans now on the continent. Alluding to the assumption of titles by our countrymen there, he tells an interesting anecdote of Welch, the Circus man, who probably is unlearned by this time that a stolen title is of no more value than any other stolen property.

"On looking over the morning papers, one day on the beginning of March, I found it stated, among the movements of various kings and princes, that 'The North American General Welch, has arrived.' Of course, my curiosity was excited, but upon referring to the American Army list, I found no such person. It concluded that it must be some new general, or (thought I) perhaps would be nearly impossible.) General Wescott well known in the United States, as the proprietor of the North American Circus. But how should the title of General have been so negligent as to change a circus manager into an American general? But, notwithstanding the supposed carefulness of diplomatic clerks, it was he, travelling on the Continent with a passport in the name of General Welch. When he arrived in Berlin, the passport was sent to the police office, to be exchanged for a 'Sejour, Aufenthalt,' or leave of residence, which is necessary in this police-oppressed city. There the news found its way into the papers, and at the same time the police sent to the General, to improve his exact rank in the American Army, for if he had really been of such high rank, the military Governor of the city would have paid him divers attentions, and if he had been of the rank of General Scott, some grand review would have taken place in his honor. The poor General was rather dismayed by all those prospective attentions, and therefore posted with all possible haste to our excellent Secretary of Legation at this court, Mr. Fay, the author, and begged him to help him out of the difficulty, which he (Fay) did by giving him a new passport, which may well be imagined by all those who know the character of either of the illustrious individuals whose names are talked of in connection with the Presidency. We may well congratulate ourselves that the destinies of the republic are committed to hands from whose hold no detriment to her interests will come.

The Temperance Watchman and the Whig Candidate.

The last number of the Temperance Watchman, just issued in Portland, contains an article signed by E. Beaman and L. R. Palmer of this place, denouncing the Whig candidate for Governor, in no measured terms, as an enemy to the "Liquor Law." We say signed by them—the authorship of the article belongs to a very different personage. Knowing, as we well do, the source from which this and other foul aspersions of Mr. C.'s character emanate, and the motives which prompt them, we are not at all surprised by it. We should deem it undeserving of notice, were it not that the assertion that the signers have never had any personal difficulty with Mr. C. gives to it such an air of candor as might induce those unacquainted with the private history of men and things in Belfast to give full credit to its statements. The simple fact that the signers have long been, as they represent themselves still to be, Whigs, will, of itself, be sufficient to excite some inquiry as to how it happens that they are found taking the field against their personal friend, the regularly nominated, candidate of their party. But we know that the profession that these individuals have never had any personal difficulty with Mr. C. is absolutely false, so far, at least, as one of them is concerned, the tool of, if not himself the instigator of, the petty prosecution to which Mr. C. has been subjected from the day when he was first brought forward as a candidate for the office of Governor. We know that such a feeling of hostility exists as has determined, long since, all intercourse between them. How a man can profess to have no other than friendly feelings towards another, whom he visites in private conversation, and through the columns of the press, whom he opposes although nominated for office by the party to which he claims to belong, and whom he passes in our streets without even the interchange of the ordinary daily salutations, is beyond our comprehension.

But to the article. The charges brought against Mr. C. by Messrs. Beamen and Palmer, are, in substance, that he refused to sign a certain paper pledging the subscribers to prosecute all persons concerned in violating the law—that in a conversation held sometime last summer, he expressed himself fully in opposition to the law, denouncing it as unjust, tyrannical, and oppressive, stigmatizing its framers as "rumskulls," &c., and that he has never professed to be a temperance man, nor ever given any support or countenance to the temperance reform in any of its stages.

As to the first charge, the fact is as stated. The fact is true, in the matter referred to, Mr. C. acted in strict accordance with one of our most sacred and important principles—that of individual freedom of action. He considered—as many others did—an abuse of the law, and he refused to put his name to a paper which he considered as pledging him to the support of a law which he believed to be unjust, tyrannical, and oppressive. He considered that he was no more responsible for the acts of others under the prohibitory law, than they were for his acts under the license law, and he refused to be dragooned into the support of any

Bangor Air-Tight COOKING STOVE

THE best Cook Stove ever introduced to this or any other people.

Having secured the sole agency of this very desirable Stove, I take great pleasure in offering it to my customers and the public. This Stove was invented expressly for this eastern market, by those experienced and expert Stove manufacturers' Messrs. Eastes & Whittier, who know, and have appropriated the wants of this enlightened people. It is now offered to the public with the full confidence its merits, and this subject rely over every other Cooking apparatus ever introduced. Its convenience for Boiling, Broiling, Frying, &c., are not surpassed, and its extensive and beautiful Oven for Baking and Roasting, will at once recommend itself to the Ladies. One very important feature is, it has very stout and smooth castings, and being manufactured in this city, can at all times be repaired, if ever necessary, at a trifling expense without subjecting one to wait for castings to be ordered from New York, Rhode Island, or elsewhere. Every Stove is warranted one year, and one not giving entire satisfaction may be returned and the money will be refunded after 30 days trial.

A great variety of other patterns of cooking Stoves, such as the
